

The American Public Power Association (APPA) is the voice of not-for-profit, community-owned utilities that power 2,000 towns and cities nationwide. We represent public power before the federal government to protect the interests of the more than 49 million customers that public power utilities serve and the 93,000 people they employ. Our association advocates and advises on electricity policy, technology, trends, training, and operations. Our members strengthen their communities by providing superior service, engaging citizens, and instilling pride in community-owned power.

Connect with leaders who make critical purchasing decisions for their utilities

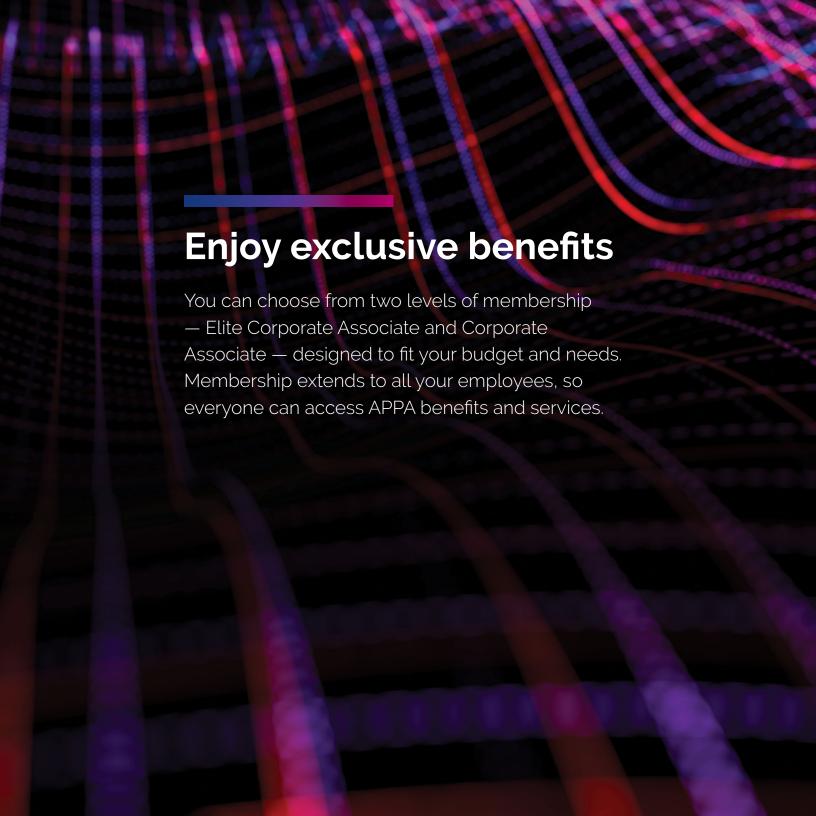

To increase sales and revenue, you need to know the right people. As an Elite Corporate Associate or a Corporate Associate member, we'll connect you with decision-makers at utilities who:

- are more informed about AMI solutions.
- are much more likely to have plans to invest in customer information systems (including interactive outage notifications), utility-scale renewable generation, and behind the meter storage
- are more aware of potential impacts of distributed energy resources within their service territory
- are more likely to have a defined cybersecurity strategy and to be seeking cybersecurity solutions
- are likely to engage business consultants
- are more likely to have a continuity of operations plan
