Join the American Public Power Association

Discover how APPA can connect you with leaders and decision-makers at public power providers.

Public power executives view companies that belong to APPA as thought leaders and supporters of their industry.

The American Public Power Association (APPA) is the voice of not-for-profit, community-owned utilities that power 2,000 towns and cities nationwide. We represent public power before the federal government to protect the interests of the more than 55 million customers that public power utilities serve and the 100,000 people they employ. Our association advocates and advises on electricity policy, technology, trends, training, and operations. Our members strengthen their communities by providing superior service, engaging citizens, and instilling pride in community-owned power.

"Through APPA's corporate associate membership, our firm can create new partnerships while building upon existing relationships across the US. As an ENR Top 500 Design Engineering Firm, we truly enjoy supporting the CEO & Utility Managers Roundtable and the National Conference."

Connect with leaders who make critical purchasing decisions for their utilities

To increase sales and revenue, you need to know the right people. As an Elite Corporate Associate or a Corporate Associate member, we'll connect you with decision-makers at utilities who:

- Have an AMI system in place or have plans to invest in AMI or OMS solutions in the next one to three years.
- Are much more likely to have plans to invest in customer information systems (including interactive outage notifications), utility-scale renewable generation, and behind the meter storage — and for higher amounts.
- Are more likely to go after federal funding opportunities under the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act.
- Report an increased demand for distribution transformers.
- Are more aware of potential impacts of distributed energy resources within their service territory.
- Are more likely to have a defined cybersecurity strategy and to be seeking cybersecurity solutions.
- Are more likely to engage a variety of business consultants.

Join today to enjoy exclusive benefits!

"Through APPA, we hear firsthand about the specific security challenges public power utilities face, such as the constant threat of copper theft, the risk of ballistic attacks, vandalism, and the need to secure infrastructure against extreme weather. With this insight, we can position our precast wall systems as a direct, cost-effective, and long-term solution to their most pressing security concerns, ensuring asset protection and regulatory compliance."
