

COMMUNITY CHOICE
AGGREGATOR

A large-scale photograph of a renewable energy landscape. In the foreground, several large wind turbines with white towers and three-bladed rotors are visible. The towers have red and green horizontal stripes. The ground is a mix of green grass and rows of solar panels. In the background, more turbines and a line of trees are visible under a clear blue sky. The sun is high in the sky, creating a bright starburst effect. The word "JOIN" is superimposed in large, white, bold, sans-serif capital letters across the middle of the image, with an orange bar at the bottom.

THE AMERICAN PUBLIC POWER ASSOCIATION
AS A COMMUNITY CHOICE AGGREGATOR (CCA)

Join the American Public Power Association to access industry-leading training and information resources

As a Community Choice Aggregator (CCA), you have much in common with public power utilities, like providing consumer choice, local control, economic development, and committing to energy sources that meet your consumers' values. That's why you need the resources and support that the American Public Power Association offers.

Community Choice Aggregator (CCA) Associate membership provides your staff with access to premier professional development programs, governance resources, customer service essentials, power supply/industry basics, and community outreach tools.

Enjoy valuable member benefits without breaking the bank

CCA Associate membership gives your employees the products and services they need to excel at their jobs, including:

- Deeply discounted rates on industry-leading professional development opportunities offered through the Association's Academy (conferences, webinars, inhouse training) that keep your employees informed and improve your operations
- Access to turnkey customer communications resources that help you raise awareness of community choice electric programs
- Discounts on industry products and publications, including the Public Power Data Source, a national market research platform that provides real-time access to customer data trends and customizable reports
- Associate-level access to resources on PublicPower.org
- Organization-wide subscriptions to Public Power Daily e-newsletter and Public Power magazine
