General Mutual Aid Website

APPA members can access a list of public power and cooperative utilities that are part of the National Mutual Aid Agreement at www.publicpower.org/disaster-planning-and-response. This site also presents expert perspectives and mutual aid best practices that public power utilities can use to evaluate and improve their level of preparedness for any disaster.

Mutual Aid Coordination Website

Ensure that your utility has the most up-to-date Mutual Aid Designated State Coordinator (DSC) list by visiting www.publicpower.org/disaster-planning-and-response on a regular basis. To update your contact information, email MutualAid@PublicPower.org.

Mutual Aid LISTSERV

APPA hosts a mutual aid LISTSERV for member public power utilities, public utility districts, state associations, and joint action agencies. The LISTSERV occasionally helps organizations communicate during natural disasters, provide restoration updates, and request aid. Members can also share best practices, lessons learned, and general information on mutual aid and disaster recovery.

To join the LISTSERV, please visit www.publicpower.org/about/members/listservs and complete the appropriate form, or email your name, title, organization name, email address, and phone number to Info@PublicPower.org.
