Grant County PUD receives national award for community service

Austin, Texas, June 11, 2019 — Grant County PUD in Ephrata, Washington received an American Public Power Association Community Service Award at the American Public Power Association's national conference in Austin, Texas. This award recognizes "good neighbor" activities that demonstrate the commitment of the utility and its employees to the community.

Grant County Public Utility District serves a vast agricultural and industrial region in rural Central Washington State. Community service has been a part of Grant PUD's culture for decades. The utility has many community service projects, including a holiday food drive for Grant County food banks, support for Seattle Children's Hospital, and "Archaeology Days" at the community's Wanapum Heritage Center. Grant PUD remains an outstanding and compassionate community partner on the social, cultural, educational and economic fronts.

The American Public Power Association is the voice of not-for-profit, community-owned utilities that power 2,000 towns and cities nationwide. We represent public power before the federal government to protect the interests of the more than 49 million people that public power utilities serve, and the 93,000 people they employ. Our association advocates and advises on electricity policy, technology, trends, training, and operations. Our members strengthen their communities by providing superior service, engaging citizens, and instilling pride in community-owned power.
