Northern California Power Agency assistant general manager receives public power service award

New Orleans, La., June 19, 2018 —Jane Cirrincione, Assistant general manager, legislative & regulatory affairs of the Northern California Power Agency (NCPA) in Roseville, California, received the Harold Kramer-John Preston Personal Service Award at the American Public Power Association's national conference in New Orleans, Louisiana. This award recognizes individuals for their service to the American Public Power Association.

Jane has been a public power advocate for more than 20 years. She has served on the American Public Power Association's Legislative and Resolutions Committee since 2001 and was the chair in 2014. To get her members involved in federal advocacy, Jane started the NCPA federal policy conference held every April in Washington, D.C. She is active in the California Municipal Utilities Association, where she serves as an alternate for the board and is regularly engaged with CMUA's Legislative and Regulatory Committee. Jane previously worked in government relations at the American Public Power Association.

The American Public Power Association is the voice of not-for-profit, community-owned utilities that power 2,000 towns and cities nationwide. We represent public power before the federal government to protect the interests of the more than 49 million people that public power utilities serve, and the 93,000 people they employ. Our association advocates and advises on electricity policy, technology, trends, training, and operations. Our members strengthen their communities by providing superior service, engaging citizens, and instilling pride in community-owned power.
